Made With Goodness.

Nature's Way Sambucus products are made from the extract of hand-picked Elderberries. Grown in Europe, at an optimal altitude, black elderberries have a long history in traditional Herbal Medicine. We seek out and partner with farmers who have, for generations, grown the finest black elderberries in the perfect conditions.

Our berries are handpicked and harvested at just the right time. Elderberries are inspected for quality and frozen on the same day to preserve them at their peak.
